Confirmation that your application has been received will be emailed to you within 24 to 48 hours after we process your application. You will not be confirmed until I receive your check and application so giving it to Trina doesn't count.

The ABSOLUTE deadline for entering the show is Jan. 27, 2019 .

All work must be original and made by the applying artist please don't plan on selling work that is not your own

Note on location requests: We make every effort to comply with specific location requests, although this is not always possible, also please remember that you are in someone's front yard. Trees get planted or removed, the ground is not always level, there are poles or signs – get the idea. We take great care in assigning spaces but not every space is perfect so you will need to work with what you get.

Note on tents: There is a space on the application to mark if you are going to use a tent. If you think you might go ahead and mark yes because 1 week before we make the space assignments I will email you to verify that you are indeed going to use a tent and if not you can let me know at that time but don't show up the day of the event and announce that you are or are not using a tent and proceed to complain about your location. Please remember that our tent spaces are limited.

Note on time in assignments: There are specific times assigned for groups of artists to come in and unload. If you need a specific load in time please mention this on the line marked additional information.

Last year over sixty artists exhibited at the Stroll. There will be live bands and a crowd of Coconut Grove Art Lovers who really look forward to an afternoon of cool art they can buy, good food, and plenty to drink. This is a worthwhile charitable event, and all participating artists donate 10% of their sales to our designated charities: St. Alban's Child Enrichment Center, and St. Stephen's AIDS Ministry.
